

Please use this rubric as a guide as you write your abstracts. This rubric is sole property of the Association of Paranormal Study and may not be used without permission. If you have any questions, please email

Abstracts must be emailed as a WORD DOCUMENT to paranormalresearchsymposium@gmail.com. THIS IS REQUIRED.

Example Abstract

Content	Above Bar (2)	Meets Bar (1)	Below Bar (0)
Title	Title not only describes the ideas presented, but also piques people's interest and is adequate in length.	The title describes the ideas that will be presented.	Title is ambiguous or vague. Does not indicate what the presentation is about.
Description of Presentation/Workshop	Abstract's purpose is not only stated clearly, but has sufficient detail to understand the presenter's choice of research or practice-based approach. Information is presented in a way that audience has the ability to come to their own conclusions.	Abstract includes a summary of major points and how the topic will advance either the practice, professional development of the participant of the field, or what they will learn. Abstract is stated clearly and concisely. There is information described for the presentation's activities.	Description of presentation/workshop is short and does not indicate details. Reader cannot understand intent of topic. Topic is too biased or does not give the audience a choice to make decisions on their own.
Mechanics	Abstract is clear, succinct, and well-organized along with honoring the standard rules of correct grammar, punctuation, spelling, and formatting.	Abstract honors standard rules of correct grammar, punctuation, spelling, and formatting.	Abstract does not have correct grammar, punctuation, spelling, and formatting.
Length	Abstract does not exceed 300 words.	Abstract is around 200-250 words.	Abstract is 200 words or less .
Learning Objectives	Learning objects are specific and complete the statement, "At the conclusion of this presentation, participants will be able to.."	Learning objectives are appropriate and complete the statement "At the conclusion of this presentation, participants will be able to..."	Learning objectives are unclear or non-existent.
References	Abstract includes at least two references.	Abstract includes two references at most. References are current and relevant.	Abstract does not include a reference.
Topic	Topic is timely and demonstrates relevance to an area of the paranormal research field.	Topic is timely and is of interest to those in the paranormal field.	Topic is outdated and not relevant for the audience.
Level of Material	Level of material is not only appropriate for the target audience, but it is an exciting topic that will keep them engaged and follow along.	Level of material is appropriate for the target audience where they can understand the topic at hand and stay engaged.	Level of material is either too far above or below the experience of the audience. Material is either so complex that the audience will struggle to understand (cognitive overload), or is so simple that it doesn't hold the interest of the audience.